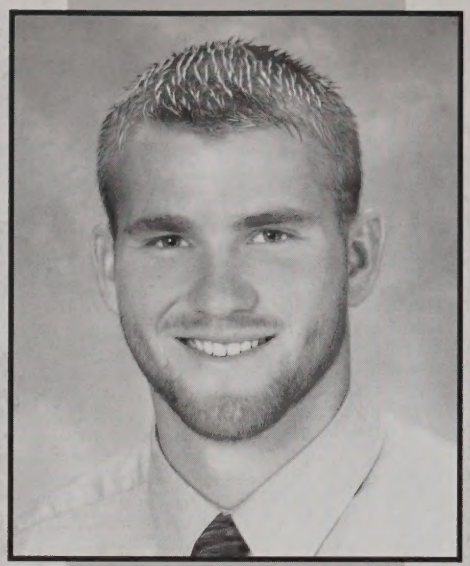
It's hard to move forward when you realize all that you are leaving behind. Thanks for the great memories SB, PB, BB, SH & JL. 350 SS represent! Thanks to everyone at WHS that made these 4 years unforgettable. I'll never forget 4/18/02, 12/27/02, or 5/3/03. Mom & Dad "You saw something in me when I lost sight of myself" thanks for always being there. I love you. To my classmates, good luck.



Matthew Bergeson Ames

Proverbs 28:1 I will always remember Pats vs. Pitt Mon. Night football, the moon tower, Bill's hospitality, and the cookout crew. Thanks and best of luck to everyone who I have met through my high school life. Merci l'Afrique pour toutes les memoires et je n'oublierai jamais I.C.S.A. aussi bien que mes amis la. I love you BGC team, Christelle, Johnny, Mom and Dad the Ames and Bergeson Family. "Life is too important a thing ever to talk seriously about," just relax.

Mark David Brierley

If everything changed tomorrow, would you change too? I'm going to miss everyone more than I let on. What happened to the plans we had and were all those things that happened instead better? People usually put memories here, but I don't remember that much. Besides, nothing happened that needs to be put down here, except for that one thing and everyone involved with that probably won't forget it.

"Courage is not the absence of fear, courage is the presence of fear, but with the will to go on." This is a quote that I would like my family, my friends, and everyone to remember because we cannot afford to let ourselves be limited by our fears. The harder it is, the more you get. If it is hard, don't stress, 'cause it'll only make you better.

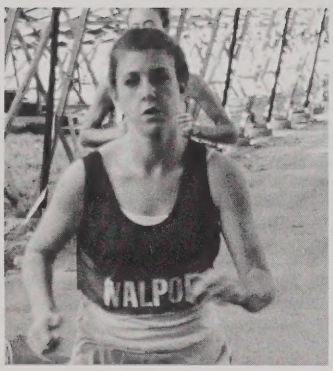
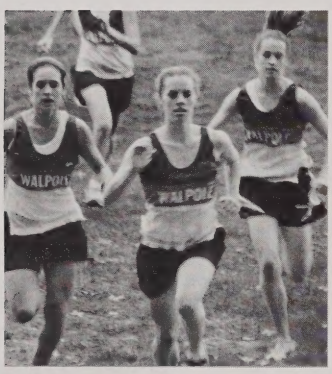
Walpole Tracksters on the go!!!





Girls Cross Country

With only nine members on the team, the Girls Cross Country squad was one of the smallest in the league. The team still managed a record of 3-8 despite their obvious shortcomings. "This is a big step in the right direction in comparision to the previous two years which only produced one win," claimed first year coach Tim Giblin.

The girls roared out of the gate, winning their first three meets without injured senior Christine Monahan. The Rebels were certainly optimistic about the rest of the season. However, the streak did not last; the girls suffered their first upset in the Tri-Meet against Weymouth and Dedham. This year's Bay State League was one of the most competitive in recent years.

Although the team will lose its top runner, Megan Conklin, the girls will welcome the return of "Freshman sensation" Nicole Eckart, Jill Moynihan, Gillian Quann, Brianne McDonough, and Caitlin Corkum. Also coming back are stellar Sophomores Kaitlyn Quealy and Shannon Barry. "Wins and losses aside, I'm happy that we have put together a core that will last a few more years and has placed two more Freshmen, Nicole Eckart and Brianne McDonough, in the top fifty at the Catholic Memorial Invitational," said Coach Giblin. Giblin also hopes to recruit upcoming Freshmen and continue a summer running/conditioning program to help build next year's team.

Boys Cross Country

This year's boys cross country squad finished with a record of 4-7. While on the surface this may seem disappointing, one must remember that this is a young team; all of the runners will be returning next year. With first year coach Tim Giblin spurring them on, these Rebels can only get better.

The team's performance at the League Meet was the highlight of the season. Stellar performances were turned in by Sophomores Doug Lawson(a Bay State League All-Star) and Ryan Norton, who placed twelfth and nineteenth, respectively. Freshman Joe Crehan also put in a solid effort, placing thirty-ninth. Dan Parnagian finished next in forty-sixth place, followed by Sam Dent(53), Phil Gingras(59), and Mike Zampi. Their combined efforts were strong enough to place Walpole seventh in the Bay State League.

Giblin feels that the veterans have improved over the past few years. He is confident that the "freshmen will carry the program" and eventually turn things around. Overall, the boys cross country team had quite a respectful season.

Field Hockey

This year, the Porkers experienced what is know as a "rebuilder." The underclassmen certainly had big shoes to fill; of the fifteen graduated seniors, nine were All-Stars and three were All-Americans. Under the new regime of head coach Marianne Murphy, the squad roared to a 13-1-4 record. More importantly, the team grew more unified as the season went on. Seniors Anna Rossi, Regan Geary, Shannon Creeden, Lisa Ranalli, Cori Giampietro, and Stephanie Foley led by example with positive attitudes and an indomitable love for the game.

The Porkers cruised into the state tournament with only one regular season loss. Co-captains Ranalli and Giampietro were leaders on the field, while All-Stars Bonnie Shea, Siobhan Connolly, Danielle Collins, and Christina Mirando provided ample support. However, the dream of a state title was ultimately in vain; the team went down to the Mustangs of Norwood in a tight 1-0 defeat in the South Sectional Final.

This may have been a "rebuilder," but it was still a very successful season.

Football

During the 2002 Fall season, the Walpole High School Football squad experienced many upheavals. Starting off slowly, the Rebels struggled at times throughout the season. There were some heartbreaking defeats; three games were lost by less than a touchdown. In spite of their losing record (5-6 overall), the Rebels managed to win two of their last three games and finish at the top of the Bay State League Herget Division with a record of 4-1.

The Walpole defense was the team's bright spot this season, allowing the least number of points to be scored against them in the Herget Division. Anchored by Senior captain and Bay State League All-Star Joe Fellini, the defense included Bill Stokinger, Patrick Wasilunis, Curtis Pearson, Peter Loescher, Brian Hartnett, Mike Hopkins, David Lenker, and James Merrick. In charge of stopping the run were linebackers Nick Bartucca, Brian Silvernail, and Thomas Hart. The defensive backfield consisted of Seniors David Galt, Mark Goguen and captain Jason Lamoureux.

Even with the enormous offensive talent, the Rebels could not seem to put the pieces together. Stalwart leadership was provided by the senior running backs, two year starter Bill Shea and Bay State League All-Star captain Chris Decembrele. Wide receivers Matt Ames, Eric Pessa, and Andrew Kiewlicz led the team in passing receptions. The offensive line was anchored by seniors Nick Clifford, Nate Nottingham, and Jake Vanderheyden.

Although this year's record was not as successful as hoped, Head Coach Dan Villa praised the team's effort: "The leadership of these 24 seniors has been unmatched in past seasons." It is clear that next year's team has some rebuilding to do. However, with a strong core of junior talent, the future success of the Rebels is assured.

Cheerleading

"Losers rely on luck, winners rely on skill."

The 2002 Walpole High cheerleaders faced their share of hardships. There were broken bones, sprained ankles, injured wrists...but in the end they managed to to pull through once again and come out on top!

The talented squad was led by third year coach Courtney Saulnier and assistant coach Estee Geyser, as well as senior captains Taryn Antoniou, Heather Sterne, and Ashley Wickham. Their first win was at an invitational competition at Shepherd Hill High School, where they defeated arch-rivals Norwood by an exceptional 10.5 points. At the Regional competition in Taunton, the team competed against nineteen other Division 2 teams and scored fifth place overall. Soon after the girls were named Herget Division Champs and finished fifth place in the Bay State League.

Throughout the fall and winter seasons this squad routinely displayed their excellence. For the first time, they know how it feels to have...

Girls Soccer

The 2002 Girls Soccer Team was led by senior captains Kathleen Ryan, Katie Munroe, and Liz Moritz. It was a long and sobering season; the final record was 1-13-3. Although the wins were few, the girls worked hard and never gave up until the last whistle was blown.

Highlights of the year included Kathleen Ryan and Kelsey Bohan being named First and Second Team Bay State League All-Stars, respectively. In addition, Ryan was named a Neponset Daily Transcript All-Star. The leading scoring honors went to a pair of underclassmen: Junior Whitney Dziama and Sophomore Olivia Bethoney.

The girls will attend John Smith Soccer Camp at Merrimack College in the summer to improve their team game and individual skills.

Boys Soccer

The 2002 Boys Soccer Team ended a somewhat disappointing season with a record of 5-10-3. Although the team's record was not particularly impressive, they still played with grit and determination.

Led by senior captains Mike Anello, Nick Moise, and Peter Butera, the team garnered respect for their tenacity and tendency to never back down. Throughout the season, the Rebels played extraordinary defense; there was only one game in which they allowed more than three goals. However, there was a lack of offensive luck at the beginning of the season, resulting in several heartbreaking losses. Instead of entering the state tournament, the Rebels dedicated their last game to the departing seniors: Anello, Moise, Butera, Sean O'Keefe, Matt Crown, Jim Staley, Sean Hayward, and Chris Mucciarone.

Although the team failed to win any championships, there were many individual achievements. Mike Anello was named a Bay State League First Team All-Star, an Eastern Massachusetts All-Star, and a Neponset Valley Daily News All-Star! Earning status as Bay League Second Team All-Stars were seniors Staley, juniors Derek Dubois and Mike Miller, and Sophomore Chris Lipsett. Senior captain Peter Butera was also selected as a Neponset Valley Daily News All-Star.

The Fall 2002 campaign was best summed up by a Needham head coach after a game against the Rebels: "I can't believe they have a losing record."

Golf

The 2002 Golf team finished their season with a remarkable 15-1 record. Under the regime of new head coach Todd Simone, the team won Division Two South and placed second in the State Championship.

Captains John Anzlovar and Christopher Brundrett both had spectacular seasons. Junior Michael Loring received the honor of being elected to the Bay State League All-Stars. Amazingly, the team was undefeated on their home turf at Walpole Country Club. This was a poignant accomplishment for the departing seniors: Anzlovar, Brundrett, David Gerth, Tony Larkin, and Dan Mastaby.

Despite losing five seniors, the squad is still strong and looking forward to next year's season.

Swimming and Diving

There is no other way to sum up the Girls Swimming and Diving team's season than to say it was the best ever. The record for the 2002 season was 8-3-1, placing the team fourth in the league. The versatile squad was led by Senior captains Julianne McCormick and Vanessa Smith as well as Junior captain Tiffany Travers. The upperclass talent of Rebecca Martin, Brie Gaffney, and Christina Galonzka allowed Coach Cheryl Cavanaugh the liberty to mix the line-up with ease.

As for the championship meets, Cavanaugh had numerous Rebels to choose from. Qualifiers for the Sectionals included McCormick, Martin, Smith, Kristin Collins, and Alexandra Smith. Both Julianne McCormick and Vanessa Smith went on to the State Championship meet following the Sectionals.

Although it will be losing many valuable members this year, the 2003 squad is looking forward to another great season.

Volleyball

Despite a slow start, the varsity volleyball team finished in grand fashion. The three captains-Kaitlin Carleton, Elizabeth Donnelly, and Kelly Glennon-provided the team with skilled leadership. Attacker Liz Swanson and servers Dianne Black, Jill Smith, and Kim Sweet were sensational in their respective roles. When Swanson suffered an injury mid-season, Jacky Riu got a chance to start as left side attacker, giving Jill Smith an opportunity to play middle.

"They fought all the way and played hard, " stated Coach Lisa Cyr. "They started a little slow, but then came back. I'm so proud of them. They ran a great offense."

Although their record was not exceptional, the team played hard and had an enthusiastic attitude. They truly made Walpole High proud.

Boys Winter Track

The 2002-2003 Boys Winter Track team faired well for an extremely young team. With a new set of coaches, it took some time for the squad to gel together. However, with a solid core of athletes returning the team made a dent in the standings of the Bay State Conference. Captains Adam Brierley and Peter Butera led the team confidently along with fellow seniors Erwin Francois, Jim Staley, Ken Riley, Matt Crown, Tony Larkin, Jake Vanderheyden, and Dan Zozula. These seniors dominated in events ranging from the shot put to the hurdles. Several underclassmen who contributed were sophomores Doug Lawson(2 mile) and Kevin Butera(55m) earned respect in the league. Junior Dan Parnagian came close to setting a school record in the 300m. Qualifying for the Class C meet were Peter Butera (600m), Matt Crown(1000m), Tony Larkin(55m hurdles), Dan Parnagian(300m) and Doug Lawson (2 mile). Though none moved onto the All-State meet they were successful throughout the season.

Girls Winter Track

The Girl's Track Team(0-6) may not have had what many would call a successful year, but their younger members gained more experience. With the influx of many underclassmen this year, the team was able to start building a foundation for the future. Two very tight meets were against Braintree and arch-rival Norwood. Both meets came down to the relay in which the Rebels lost by only two points each time. Returning varsity members were captains Erica Pritchard and Christine Monahan; Monahan, who was out all season with an injury, was there every meet to support the team.

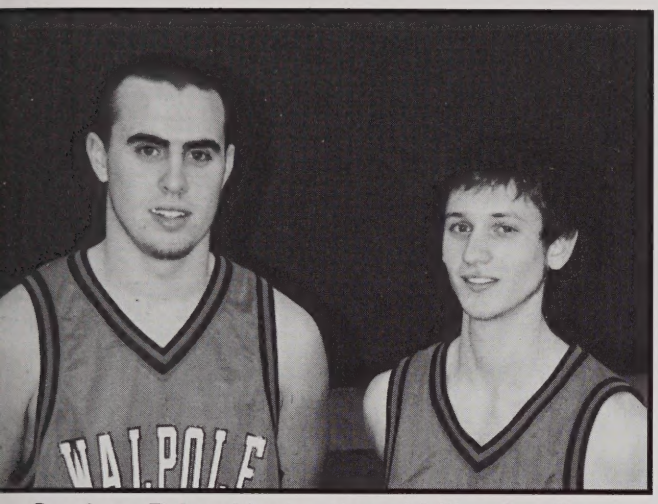
Boys Basketball



Seniors Brian Hartnett and Mike Anello

Followers of the boys basketball team have been on a long and winding road. For the past few seasons, wins have been as frequent as windmill dunks for the Rebels. Constantly overshadowed by the juggernaut of the girls team, the boys could not seem to reap the benefit of their hard work.

And then came the 2003 season.

Suddenly everything began to come together. Seniors Brian Hartnett and Mike Anello mixed their experience with the undeniable talent of returning juniors Tim Clifford, Matt Wolff, Matt DiCalgiero, Dan Elwood and Brian Mandeville resulting in a lethal combination of skill, heart, and determination.

The season started off with an impressive six game winning streak. The Rebels finally fell victim to Dedham while an injured Clifford watched from the bench. Throughout the rest of the season the squad remained consistent, finishing with an impressive 18-4 record.

An added bonus to the season was the team bringing the Rebel Roundup Trophy home for the first time in twelve years. They defeated both Oliver Ames and Needham to claim the title. Matt Wolff averaged a team-high 24 points per game throughout the tourney, earning him an MVP trophy.

Despite their short playoff run, the Walpole varsity basketball team gained back their reputation as a dominant force in the Bay State League. With the core of the lineup returning, next year's team should be unstoppable.

Wrestling

The Walpole Boys Wrestling team had a less than spectacular season, finishing with a 1-19 record. This lack of success was attributed to only entering in half of the fourteen weight classes. However, first year coach Brian Gallagher stated that this year he was more concerned with "improvements from week to week."

The Division 2 South Sectionals were held at Reading High School, where the Rebels found some success. Captains Joe Fraser and Peter Wasilunas captured first place and third place, respectively. Also, Senior captain Pat Wasilunas placed sixth in the 215 lb. weight class. Both senior captains moved on to the state tournament. The highly touted Fraser placed sixth while the aggressive Loescher finished in fifth place.

The team should see some definite improvement next season with a host of underclassmen stepping up to veteran status. Coach Gallagher also hopes to attract more students, as next year's home matches will be at Walpole High.

Hockey

Seniors Eric Pessa, Kevin Smith, Mark Goguen, Kevin Donavan, Brett Thomas, Nick Moise, Jay Lamoureux

Despite the early season suspension of three of its key players, the Rebel hockey team finished the season with a record of 9-9-3 and its first playoff birth since 1988.

The Rebels rounded out the second half of the season with clutch wins over strong opponents. Perhaps the biggest win came against Wellesley in what turned out to be the final regular season game of the season (due to snow cancellation). The Rebs avenged their previous loss with a dominant 6-3 victory.

Senior standouts included Mark Goguen, Eric Pessa, Brett Thomas, Jay Lamoureux, Kevin Smith, Kevin Donovan, and goaltender Nick Moise. Although their playoff run was brief (they suffered a 5-1 loss to Springfield Cathedral in the second round), Walpole's icemen defied all expectations with a consistently solid season.

Gymnastics

The 2003 Walpole Gymnastics team consisted of 21 girls, each contributing to a great season. Due to the depth of the talent, coaches Stacey Coleman and Jonas Contakos were able to put together a strong lineup. Being so well-rounded, the team did not have to depend on a few key gymnasts to carry it. However, the powerhouse senior lineup of Michelle Bradbury, Laura-Kate Cavanaugh, Elizabeth Donnelly, Kristen Dolan, Christina Galonzka, and Julianne McCormick led by example.

The gymnasts shined at the Bay State Competition late in the season. Not only did the Rebels defeat their longtime rivals Weymouth, but they also rolled over Natick, Norwood, and Wellesley. Throughout the season, the team worked extremely hard on routines and events. They also raised money for new uniforms, warm-ups, and equipment.

Co-captains Michelle Bradbury and Laura-Kate Cavanaugh had nothing but positive words to say about their season. "We would like to thank everybody that was involved in helping. We couldn't have done it without you. We had the best time this year and will miss you all!!!"

A record of 6-14 does not seem respectable for a team that has seen championship seasons in the past. However, in spite of the loss of talented seniors, inexperience, and injuries, the Girls Basketball team developed one of the best defenses in the Bay State League. Head Coach Stacy Bilodeau concentrated on making the Rebel's defense the heart of the game. "After every game," said Bilodeau. "The coach from the other team would come up to me and say, 'you have one of the best defenses of the season', which just goes to show how hard my kids play."

Unfortunately, Walpole's offense did not flourish until late in the season. Four of their last six games were wins in which the Rebels were scoring 60+ points per game. This offensive push ended their season on a good note and gave them confidence for next year's season. Senior captains Katie Munroe and Kathleen Ryan feel that "the team will have a good shot at winning the Bay State League next year. We have many young players and we think they will have a lot of success next season."

Girls Spring Track

A shortage of players has been the only obstacle that the Walpole High School Girls Track and Field team has had to face this year, but other than that, the team's progress throughout the year was substantial. Even though the team had no real depth in any of its events, the team had to overcome numerous challenges. With the help of their coaches, Tim Giblin, Amanda Waters, Tim Cimeno and former Rebel track star Amanda Logan, individual athletes ran, jumped and threw personal bests in the few meets they had.

The team's top runners were consistent all season. This includes captains Erica Pritchard and Laura Vega, who were a dominating force in the throwing events. Junior newcomer Lauren Keller was another asset to the small team, running the mile in 6 minutes flat.

Because the team faced the challenging and perennial powers of the Bay State League, many of the Rebels stepped up to the challenge, achieving many personal bests. The lead scorer on the team was senior Captain Erica Pritchard who dominated the discus and shot put. She, along with several other Rebels, qualified for the prestigious Class C Meet. Other sensational runners were sophomore Kaitlyn Quealy in the hurdle events of the 300 and 100, Jill Moynihan in the 800, and Anneka Landgraf in the high jump and the strong 4X800. The team, which consists of Moynihan, Landgraf, Keller, and sophomore Katrina Dold, also qualified for the Class C meet with a time of 10:49.

The goals Cimeno constructed for the season included surprising the opponents in dual meets and to consistently score over forty points in each meet. This did not occur in every single meet, but the competition the girls brought to the track greatly impacted their performance and the results were personal bests for every athlete. With the young rebuilding team finishing their season, strategies for next year are beginning to form and will most likely lead to a better season.

Boys Spring Track

The conclusion of this year's spring track season may not have been an improvement for the boys' team over last year's record, but it does show promise for the future. A record of 1-6 does not show a winning team; instead, it shows a team determined to develop its underclassmen's skills, enabling them to step up next season.

The team was comprised of many new freshmen and sophomores. However, Upperclassmen like senior Captains Peter Butera, Tony Larkin and Erwin Francois have shown to be consistent point scorers for the team. Along with sophomore Kevin Butera, Larkin and Peter Butera have both qualified for the EMASS Division 3 state meet. Peter Butera ran the 800 meter with a time of 2:06.8, Larkin participated in the 300 hurdle coming in at 42.0 and Kevin Butera competed in the 100 meter with a time of 11.2 and the triple jump with a height of 39'2".

The most impressive performances were by the team's freshmen and sophomores. Sophomores Doug Lawson and Ryan Norton both have one mile and two mile times within seconds of each other and have been very competitive throughout the season, pushing each other to personal bests. Freshman Oliver Van Houte started the season as a sprinter and hurdler, but switched over to distance when he realized it worked better for him. Another dominant distance runner is sophomore Phil Gingras who has been very strong this season, as well as in the indoor and cross-country seasons. These distance runners will help to add to the depth of the team in the future.

Freshman Mike Zampi has been unable to run in the last couple of meets because of an injury, but he shows promise as a sprinter. Other surprising performances have been in the javelin where freshman Tony Le threw 90 feet in one meet, and then threw a personal best of 110 feet in the next. Mike Kerr has also shown progress in the 400 meters, and freshmen Kevin Day and Steve Cain have dropped their times by minutes in the distance events.

As the numbers continue to increase, the boys will be able to establish more depth overall and possibly have a winning record in the future. Coach Tim Giblin's goals this year were to, "Get as many people in the class meet as we could and get as many personal bests in meets as possible."

Boys Lacrosse

The Walpole High School Boys' Lacrosse Team may have had a record of 3-15, but the Rebels continually played hard, and they never stopped fighting.

The Rebels began the season with a close 4-3 loss to Natick with the biggest contributions made by freshman Matt Shakespeare who scored two goals and junior Shawn Maloney who added another goal to his statistics. Coach Jason Andalo said, "Matt Shakespeare has played well, especially as a freshman." Freshman goalie Jon Corcoran also held up the defensive end of the Rebel's game with ten saves against Natick and twelve in the game versus Westwood. He also tied the school record for fewest goals allowed in a game in the victory over Dedham, letting in just one goal. Pete Loescher,Tim Pelletier, and Joe Fraser played solid defense throughout the season. The Rebels felt their strengths were strong defense and speed at midfield.

The captains of the team, Joe Fraser and Matt Crown, also played a solid season. According to Andalo, Shawn Maloney and Chris Graves were also leaders of the team this season. The strong play of Matt Crown and Shawn Maloney landed them a spot on the Bay State Conference All Star Team. Andalo felt "in certain situations, just about everyone played well. Our youth showed against Weymouth and Braintree, but we played a solid game against Milton."

Despite some disappointing losses, the Rebels' Boys' Lacrosse Team had three wins this season, triumphing over Milton (6-4), Westwood (9-7), and Dedham (12-1). In the Westwood victory, Matt Shakespeare had four goals. Pat Abely, Matt Crown, Mike Glennon, Chris Graves, Dan Maiorana, Shawn Maloney, Derek Rodman and Matt Shakespeare all helped in the win over Dedham by getting at least one goal each.

The Rebels hoped they could be competitive, improve their skills and become a better overall team over the course of the season. Andalo said, "Given our youth and how tough the Bay State League is, my expectations were to develop the younger guys on varsity and prepare them for each game."

However, the coach was proud of the Rebel's effort throughout the season. He said "The guys never gave up, especially considering how strong some of the opponents were."

Girls Lacrosse

The girl's lacrosse team played well during the 2003 season, finishing with a 7-9 record. Under the leadership of veteran coach, Neil Cleveland, the Lady Rebels often stunned their opponents.

Leading the way were senior captains Kelsey Bohan and Molly Desmond. Seniors Cori Giampietro and goalie Catharine Sauer also made strong contributions. The leading scorer, Whitney Dziama, and sophomore Caitlin Grant were substantial to the team, and their hard work was rewarded with a spot on the Bay State League All-Star Team. Walpole's success didn't just come by luck; committed seniors such as Michelle Bradbury, Kelly Federico, Steph Foley, Simone Kelly, Julianne McCormick, Justine McMahon, Jill Newman and Kerri O'Shea contributed hard work and brought the needed experience to this quickly developing team.

The Rebel's impressive offensive abilities and speed helped the team to plow through their opponents. Cleveland's reactions to the girl's great start was positive and hopeful: "Our out of league contests have been a step better than last year, getting us off to a good start. However, our Bay State League rivals are stronger than ever."

The Walpole girls defeated Natick 12-3, due in part to Dziama's five goals, as well as goals from Grant, Tricia McCormick, and others. A crucial win was the victory over Weymouth. The Rebels expected a tough game, and that is what they got, but Weymouth went home losing 16-10.

Coach Cleveland's philosophy: "Always leave the field knowing you did the best you possibly could on each and every play," inspired the team to fight for a spot in the State Tournament. Unfortunately, the Rebels missed the Tournament by just one win, losing to the powerhouse team of Wellesley in their last game. The girls attribute some of their success to their hard work on creating player consistency by using both strong and weak side hands.

The team should be even stronger next year with strong underclassmen starters, including Caitlin Grant, Julie Cohn, Tricia McCormick and Bonnie Shea. The Rebels also hold potential in a strong undefeated freshmen team. With young but experienced varsity players, the team should continue to develop and excel. Grant comments, "It's going to be tough because we're losing a lot of seniors but we have a lot of experienced underclassmen and juniors that will easily make up for the loss."

Softball

Rebels softball Head Coach Bob Murphy knew from the beginning that it was a rebuilding year. The Rebels were a young and inexperienced team; four of the nine starters were underclassmen. But according to Coach Murphy, "The freshmen and sophomores really stepped up their play." None of the underclassmen had experience at the varsity level, but they have all made a solid transition.

The only two seniors, Captains Katie Munroe and Rachael Bethoney, left their mark on the program. Munroe had one of the highest batting averages in the league, at .375. The two captains came up with key hits during the season, including a Bethoney two-run homerun against Natick. Both athletes were selected for the Bay State League All-Star game.

In spite of its 3-14 record, the team has dealt out its share of upsets. The first came in the Rebels' victory over Newton North. The Tigers were 5-1 coming into the game and underestimated the ability of the Walpole team. The Rebels defeated the Tigers 4-2.

The second upset came in Walpole's game against Wellesley. The Rebels took an early lead against the unsuspecting Raiders. However, Wellesley came back and after seven innings the score was tied 5-5. In the top of the eighth the Rebels knocked in four runs. Three of those runs came in on a line drive to center hit by junior Allissa Gillis. The Rebels then played tight defense, holding Wellesley to win the game.

Although the team has not had a winning season Coach Murphy is looking forward to next year. "We have a strong nucleus," said Murphy, and " the future is very bright."

Baseball

Much was expected of this year's baseball team; after all, as one of the most successful programs in Walpole High history, it has captured eight Bay State Conference Championships in the past 14 seasons. Therefore it came as no surprise that the 15-5 (11-5 in the league) Rebels put together another title run.

With two early victories over preseason favorite Braintree, including a 6-inning no-hitter for junior Tyler Thornton and an 11-inning epic for sophomore Joe Scarlata, the team was off to a strong start. Several momentous wins also included Framingham, Milton, and Newton North as they clinched a tournament berth by claiming 10 of their first 11 games. The team featured a rare senior class consisting of 10 returning players, as well as 7 regular starters.

Leading the team were senior quad-captains catcher Chris Decembrele, centerfielder Dave Galt, pitcher Tom Hart, and first baseman/pitcher Nick Moise. Decembrele, a Bay State League All-Star, developed into one of the elite catchers in the league, combining a strong arm in the field as well as power at the plate. Galt contributed with speed in the outfield as well as a great left-handed leadoff bat. All-Star Hart used his experience in the talented Rebels' rotation to continually keep the team in the game. Finally, Moise made a smooth transition to first base, allowing sophomore Jeff Cuqua to step in at third.

Backing up Moise at first was senior Jake Frangie, who was regularly in the lineup as a designated hitter, along with Junior Brian Machunski. Senior Kevin Donovan was also impressive at second base, forming a strong double-play combination with shortstop Jay Lamoureux. The middle infield's future looks promising, with Junior Joe Amara behind Lamoreux, and Scarlata, who also plays second base.

Unfortunately, the Rebels suffered a first round loss in the State tournament. However, with a young crop of underclassmen waiting in the wings, next year's season is sure to be successful.

Girls Tennis

Top tennis players Courtney Day and Allison Shaw led the novice freshmen through a difficult 1-15 season, keeping their main focus on the mentoring of the younger players.

With experienced teams such as Newton, Brookline and Wellsley challenging Walpole's ability, the Rebels lineup faced adversity. The Rebels' singles lineup includes Day and Shaw playing first and second singles, and Meghan Lovering playing third singles. Players Lisa Taylor and Lindsay Ahearn are playing first doubles, and Julie Becker and Laura Szum are playing second doubles.

"The main goals this year for the Varsity girls was to develop variety in their games, and for the JV to improve their fitness and understanding of the game," said Coach Chris Jean. " I also hope that the girls will continue to practice and take lessons over the summer." Although the girls tennis team defeated Dedham this season, their long term mission was to improve enough to become a contender in the league.

There is only one senior graduating, and it is top singles player Courtney Day. With this top player no longer contributing, the team will need to pick up the slack with new freshmen next year, and the experienced JV team. "There are a lot of quality JV players that will only improve. If they practice over the summer and in the off - season, hopefully next year we can even out the win loss ratio," said Coach Jean.

Boys Tennis

Opening with a rocky start, the boys' tennis team hoped for a strong comeback in the second half of the season, but concluded with a final record of 2-14. The coach and players could only reflect on individual performances and look forward to next year's season with a more experienced team.

The WHS Boys' Tennis Team faced a challenging season; however, Co-Captains Brendan Cochrane and John Guy stepped up their level of play in order to inspire the team. Coach Sean Gough said, "Cochrane's work ethic and leadership was a pleasant surprise." Also, sophomore John Eicher's remarkable play earned him a second singles position.

In addition to facing tough competition from top teams in the league, the Rebels struggled because of the loss of last year's second singles player, Mike Miller, in that position. Injuring his knee, Miller was forced to play second doubles.

Even though the Rebels lost their first four matches, they managed to pull out a 5-0 win against Braintree. Captain Brendan Cochrane said, "We had hoped to win more matches because of the improved play and easier second half schedule." Senior John Guy added, "The team put up a good effort, almost upsetting Norwood and giving Wellesley a run for their money."

Coach Gough believes that in the future the boys will be able to improve their level of play by working hard every day. He said that the main weakness of his team "was their lack of an overall team commitment to one goal." Cochrane said, "We needed the most improvement on volleys and putting points away."

However, Gough has a bright outlook for the future with many upcoming talented players. In addition he feels as though Brian Fagan along with first year player Alex Dulski added a lot to the team with their exceptional play this season. In addition, Gough believes that sophomore Tom Fleming has improved greatly and will be looking for a varsity spot.

Coach Gough did not feel that making the tournament was a reasonable goal for this year, but he would consider it a winning season if each member obtained his own personal goals. Gough's intention for the years to come is to be competitive with most teams in the Bay State League.

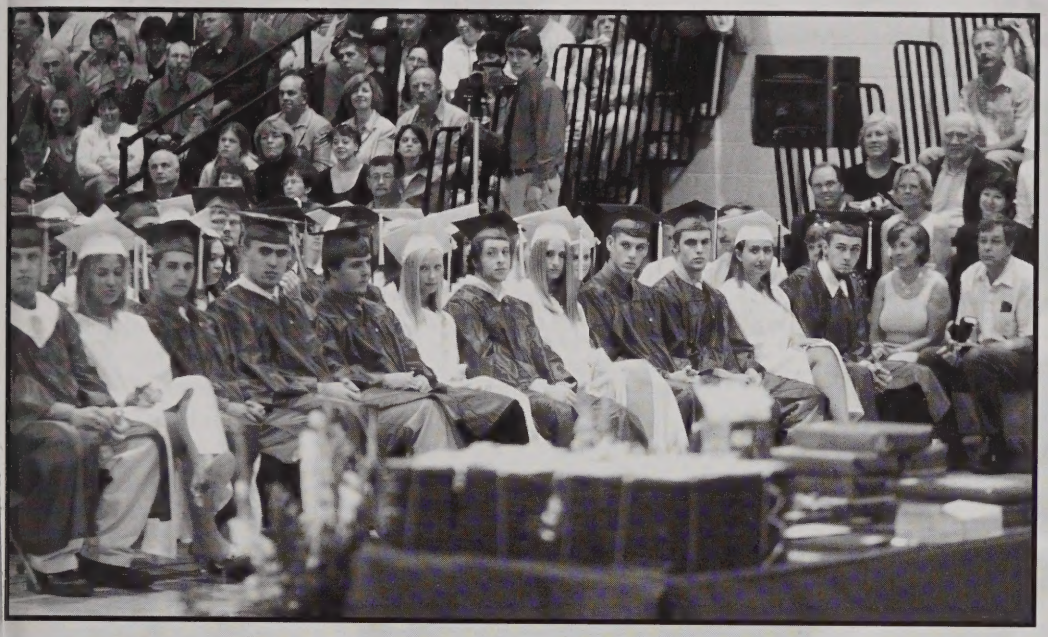
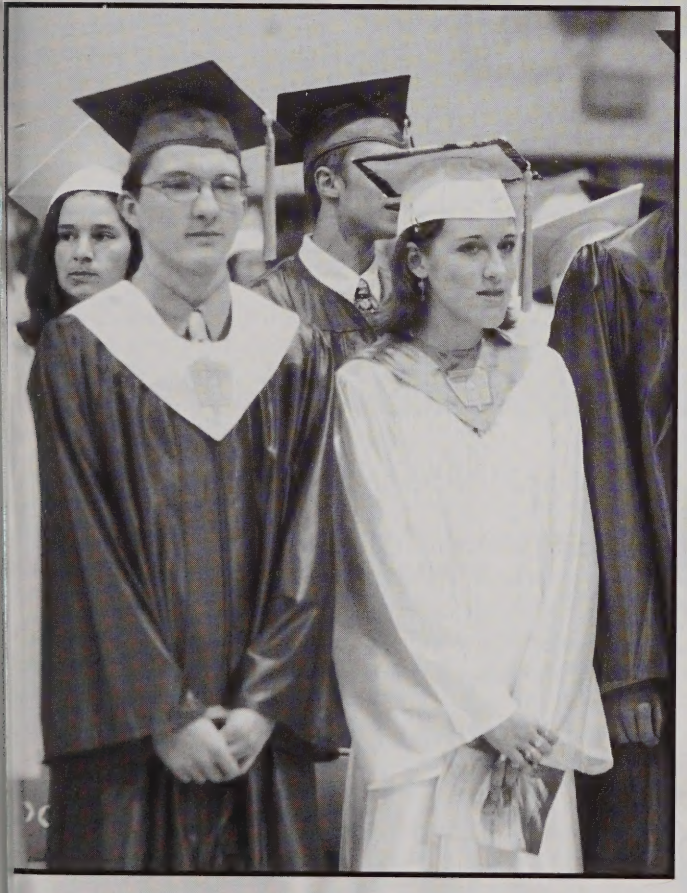
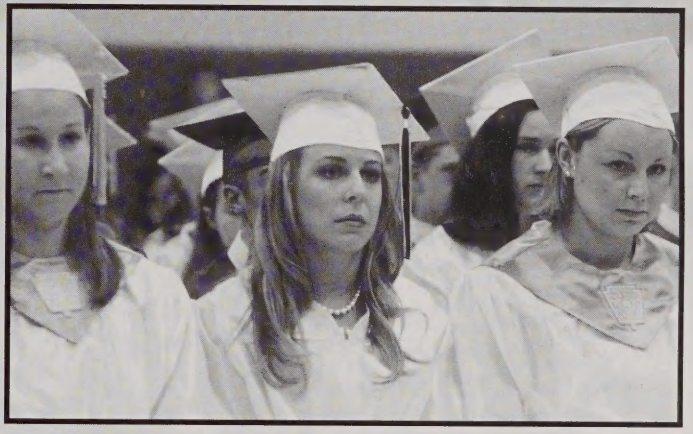
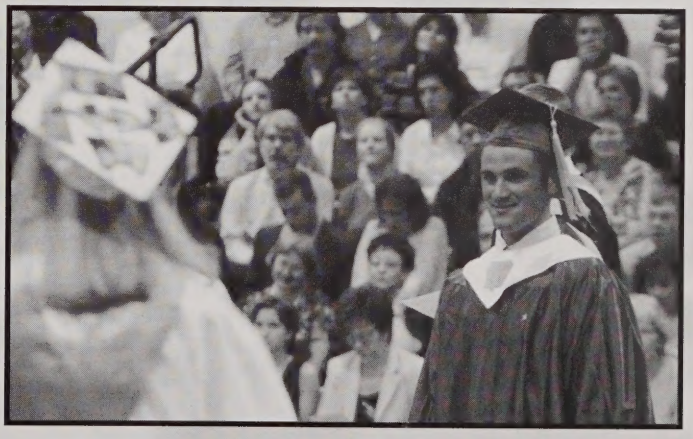
GRADUATION

On June 1, 2003, two-hundred and four members of the Class of 2003 received their diplomas.









Senior Class President

Stephanie Foley

Good afternoon. I would like to extend my warmest welcome to all family members, friends, faculty, honored guest, Superintendent Smith, the school committee, and most important, the Class of 2003. thank you all for joining us today for the 129th annual Walpole High School graduation.

It was not more than 10 months ago that Dr. Sambuceti stood in front of us, telling us how fast this year would fly by, and he could not have been more right. From the homecoming dance to the prom, from the college application process to the senior dinner, this year has been nothing but exciting and fulfilling. But as i stand before you today, I cannot help but notice how much we have grown over the past fours yeas, both emotionally and intellectually.

High school to me has been like a roller coaster ride. The journey begins standing in line anticipating the sensational ride that awaits you. As the ride begins, you realize how exhilarating this experience can truly be, that one can feel so frightened, so excited and so thrilled all at once. Through the laughter and the tears, over the ups and downs, we discover our strengths, weaknesses, our talents and our challenges; and for many of us, this journey has been quite difficult to overcome, but we have all made it through, successfully and united. Before you know it, the ride has come to an end. We would never have expected it go by so quickly.

As we approach our next roller coaster, not only will we bring with us the valuable lessons we have learned throughout our high school careers, but we will also bring the long and lasting friendships that we have developed, and these friendships are what makes our class, the Class of 2003, so unique: We are not only a group of students, we are a group of friends. Within this group of friends are many different types of people, so talented in numerous areas. Although we are riding the same roller coaster ride, we can easily turn around to the cart beside and view the variety of expressions portraying different outlooks each of us has during this adventure. We have accomplished so much over the past four years, each and every one of you should be very proud.

As you sit here today with mixed emotions, always remember no to fear the future. We may not know what will become of ourselves but must enjoy the ride we choose. To simply enjoy this ride will help you succeed. And remember, success does not always mean money, power, a nice house or a nice car. Success can mean achieving your own personal goals or helping others achieve theirs.

As Walt Whitman once said, "Do not go where the path may lead, go instead where there is no path and leave a trail." Use the characteristics that make you invaluable and leave your mark. Design you own roller coaster ride; make it as steep as you want or as windy as you want. Some of you may enter college, some of you may enter the work fore. Whatever you do, don't make an impression, make an impact! So throughout life, may your adventures be many and may each one reveal to you more and more facets of the person you are and the person you are becoming.

The future is waiting for you, so get back in line fro that roller coaster ride and enjoy the second time around as if it were your first. Congratulations and best wishes, Class of 2003.

Make life spectacular!

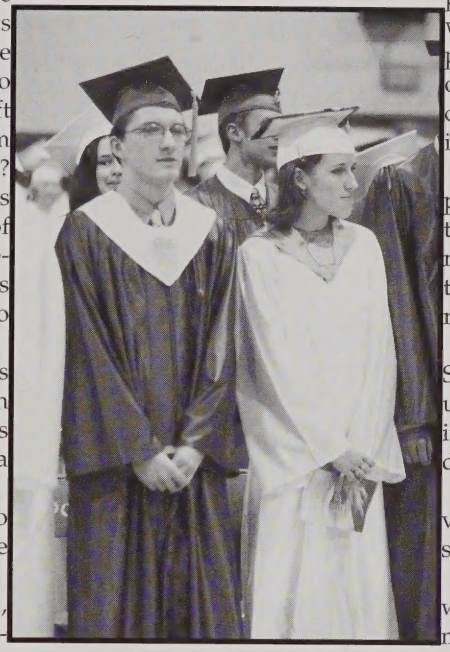
2003 Valedictorian Timothy Kowalczyk

Some of us have been anticipating this day for the last four years; others have been dreading it (especially our parents). In this ceremony we are celebrating our achievements as a class, yet it is impossible to ignore the fact that this celebration marks the end of our journey together. Whatever emotions we may be experiencing presently, one simple fact remains immutable: very shortly we will be receiving our high school diplomas.

What are we going to do with our diplomas? I know that mine will probably be left on display at home for a while, but in due time it is likely to be relegated to the basement. When we look at our diplomas, we will probably recall past high school experiences and smile, but how can we give our diplomas a meaning for the future?

I suggest that we think of our diplomas as symbols of our potential as individuals and as a class. After all, our studies and our experiences in high school have served primarily to prepare us for further study, for greater experiences, for higher achievements.

To whom do we credit the potential we now hold? The laws of physics mandate that work must be done on an object to store potential energy in it. In much the same way, the potential we harbor would not be possible without effort on our own parts. However, to credit our potential to ourselves alone would be preposterous when we consider the many people without whom our accomplishments would be either unattainable or meaningless.



In a way, our potential is a gift from the people we love. We are indebted to our families, to the faculty of Walpole High School, to our town, and perhaps most of all to each other for the potential stored in us. With this gift comes a responsibility to use our potential to effect change in our society wherever we deem it necessary. In this light, let me ask once again: what are we going to do with our diplomas?

This class will find many way s to use its potential in the years to come, but in order to do so , its members must remain conscious of their abilities and of their charge to use them. Wherever our futures lead us, we must remember to share our abilities and talents with everyone we meet. We are here today thanks to the people who have used their talents to help us. Therefore the time has come for us to return the favor and share our abilities with others.

The effective verb of Walpole High School's Statement of Purpose is "to provide." As of today, the school has achieved its purpose in us, and now it is our responsibility to transform the potential with which it has provided us into the energy requisite for positive change. It is finally our time to go forth and make a difference, with ambition as our fuel and education as our tool kit.

I believe that it would be appropriate to visualize in the passing of the diplomas today a summation of all the opportunities that the school and the community have provided to us, conferred on final time.

Thanks to everyone present this afternoon, we are a class brimming with potential, and this, the end of our time together is our ultimate beginning. Congratulations, Class of 2003, and I wish the very best of luck to you all.

2003 Salutorian Christine Monahan

Harold Whitman said, " Don't ask yourself what the world needs, ask yourself what makes you come alive. And then go an do that. Because what the world needs is people who have come alive."

Although not always palpable in a town like Walpole, the world is in a state of despair. Poverty, famine, disease, and corruption are just a few of the evils that run rampant. I have seen some of these horrors first hand. Traveling down streets in Africa, I have been approached by hordes of children with hands outrstretched begging for any bit of charity. The feeling of hopelessness is overwhelming as giving a little bit of money or food to one or two is not going to solve the problem. It is impossible for a single person to save the world.

This does not mean that there is no hope, though. It neither excuses nor justifies inaction. What we each individually have to do is find a cause we are passionate about and go after it. Choose some way we can give back to the world, help alleviate problems and make it a better place. if we each find something that we love to do and focus on that we will make a difference in that little space.

And that is where we all collectively come together. Our grade is unique in our lack of specialty. Some grades come through high school with labels such as "athletic" or "scholarly." We have people of all sorts - athletes and scholars, along with artists, musicians, actors, and people who might not fit in any of those categories but have their own calling. If every one of us sitting her today goes off and finds somethingthat we are devoted to and works passionately towards it, we will make a difference. Every single person will chip away at a different problem in the world, and when added together our care will make the world a better place.

Mahatma Gandhi said, "Whatever you do may seem insignificant to you, but it is most important that you do it." Go out into the world and do something. Find that activity that is important and do it. Our contribution will help make a world of difference.

AN ODE TO LIZZY

No matter what your plight,
You never lost sight.
You have beauty and light.
With all your might,
You'll reach your height.
So hold on tight,
It doesn't bite.
After your flight,
Make sure you write.

You were dad's joy... and my inspiration. With every bump in the road we witnessed the strength in your determination and the power that came from believing in yourself. We could not have been prouder...or more blessed.

May you come to know just how magical you are...

Love, mom

Krista,

I knew you would be a bright star in my life from the day you were born. That star has never faded. I hope you embrace all the joys and challenges that the future holds for you.

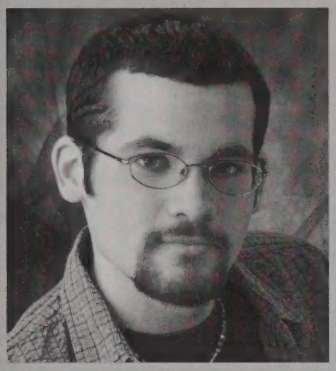
Break A Leg!



A son leaves your home
But never your heart.
He follows his own path ,
But your hopes travel with him.
He discovers his own happiness
Which, in turn, Becomes yours.
Life changes. Love does not.
